SUMMARY

EAR AND HEARING CARE FOR ALL! LET'S MAKE IT A REALITY

Each year, 3 March is promoted by the World Health Organization (WHO) as the World Hearing Day, a global advocacy event for raising awareness regarding hearing loss and promoting ear and hearing care.

On World Hearing Day 2023, WHO focused on the importance of integrating ear and hearing care within primary care, as an essential component of universal health coverage.

Key messages included:

- Ear and hearing problems are among the most common problems encountered in the community.
- Over 60% of these can be identified and addressed at the primary level of care.
- Integration of ear and hearing care into primary care services is possible through training and capacity building at this level.
- Such integration will benefit people and help countries move towards the goal of universal health coverage.

In order to support integration and access to care, on World Hearing Day (WHD) 2023 WHO launched a new training manual, the Primary ear and hearing care training manual accompanied by a trainer's handbook and other community resources.

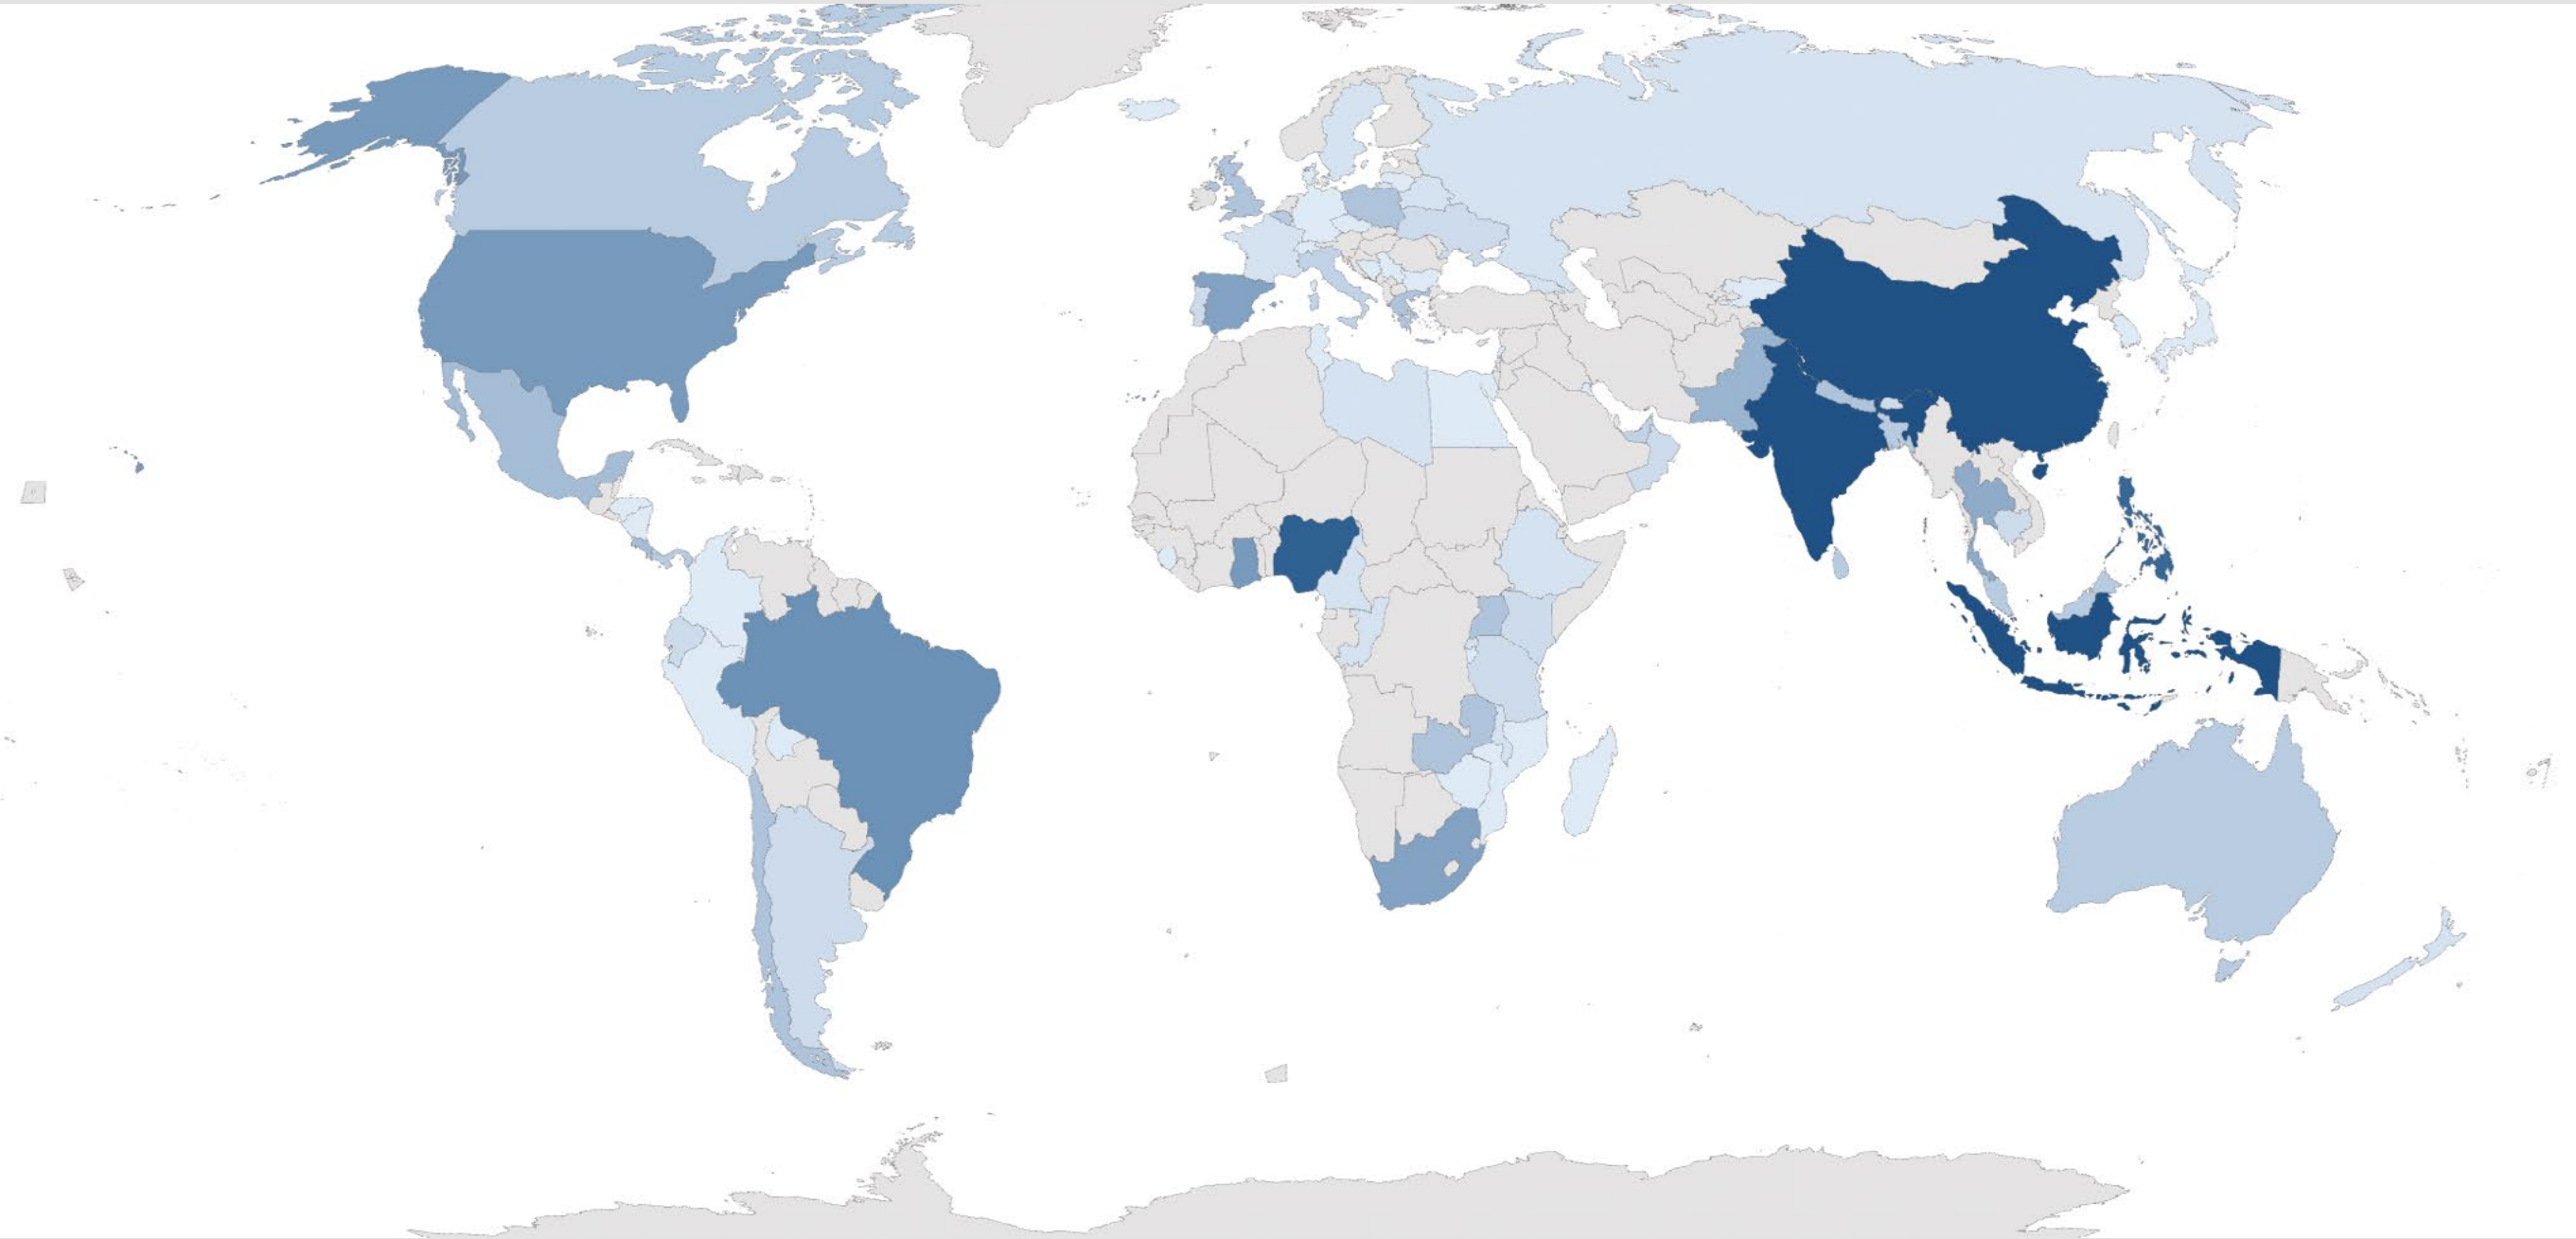

This manual is a practical guide on the prevention, identification, and management of hearing loss and common ear diseases that lead to hearing loss. It is intended mainly for health workers and doctors who work at primary care level and provide services to people either at health facilities or in communities.

To mark the day, WHO conducted hearing screenings across its headquarters and regional offices. An organization-wide communication campaign was carried out encouraging colleagues in all of WHO's 150 country offices to take a hearing test and post their scores on the internal social media groups and have a chance to win prizes. A staff webinar on 'Tips for ear and hearing care' was one of the many activities involving WHO staff members.

32 organizations in 22 different countries were selected out of 290 applications to receive a grant of US$800 to support their World Hearing Day activities. Each grant application was reviewed by 3 judges from an independent panel of 32 experts in the field and graded according to relevance to the 2024 Theme of Changing Mindsets, innovation, impact on raising awareness with the public or policy makers, etc...

To facilitate the conduct of events across the world, WHO collaborated with the Coalition for Global Hearing Health (CGHH) to provide limited financial support through the 'Small grants programme' in 2023. Organizations hosting World Hearing Day events could apply for a grant of up to USD 800 to cover expenses related to WHD activities. This year a total 193 applications were received of which 31 organizations from 21 countries were awarded.

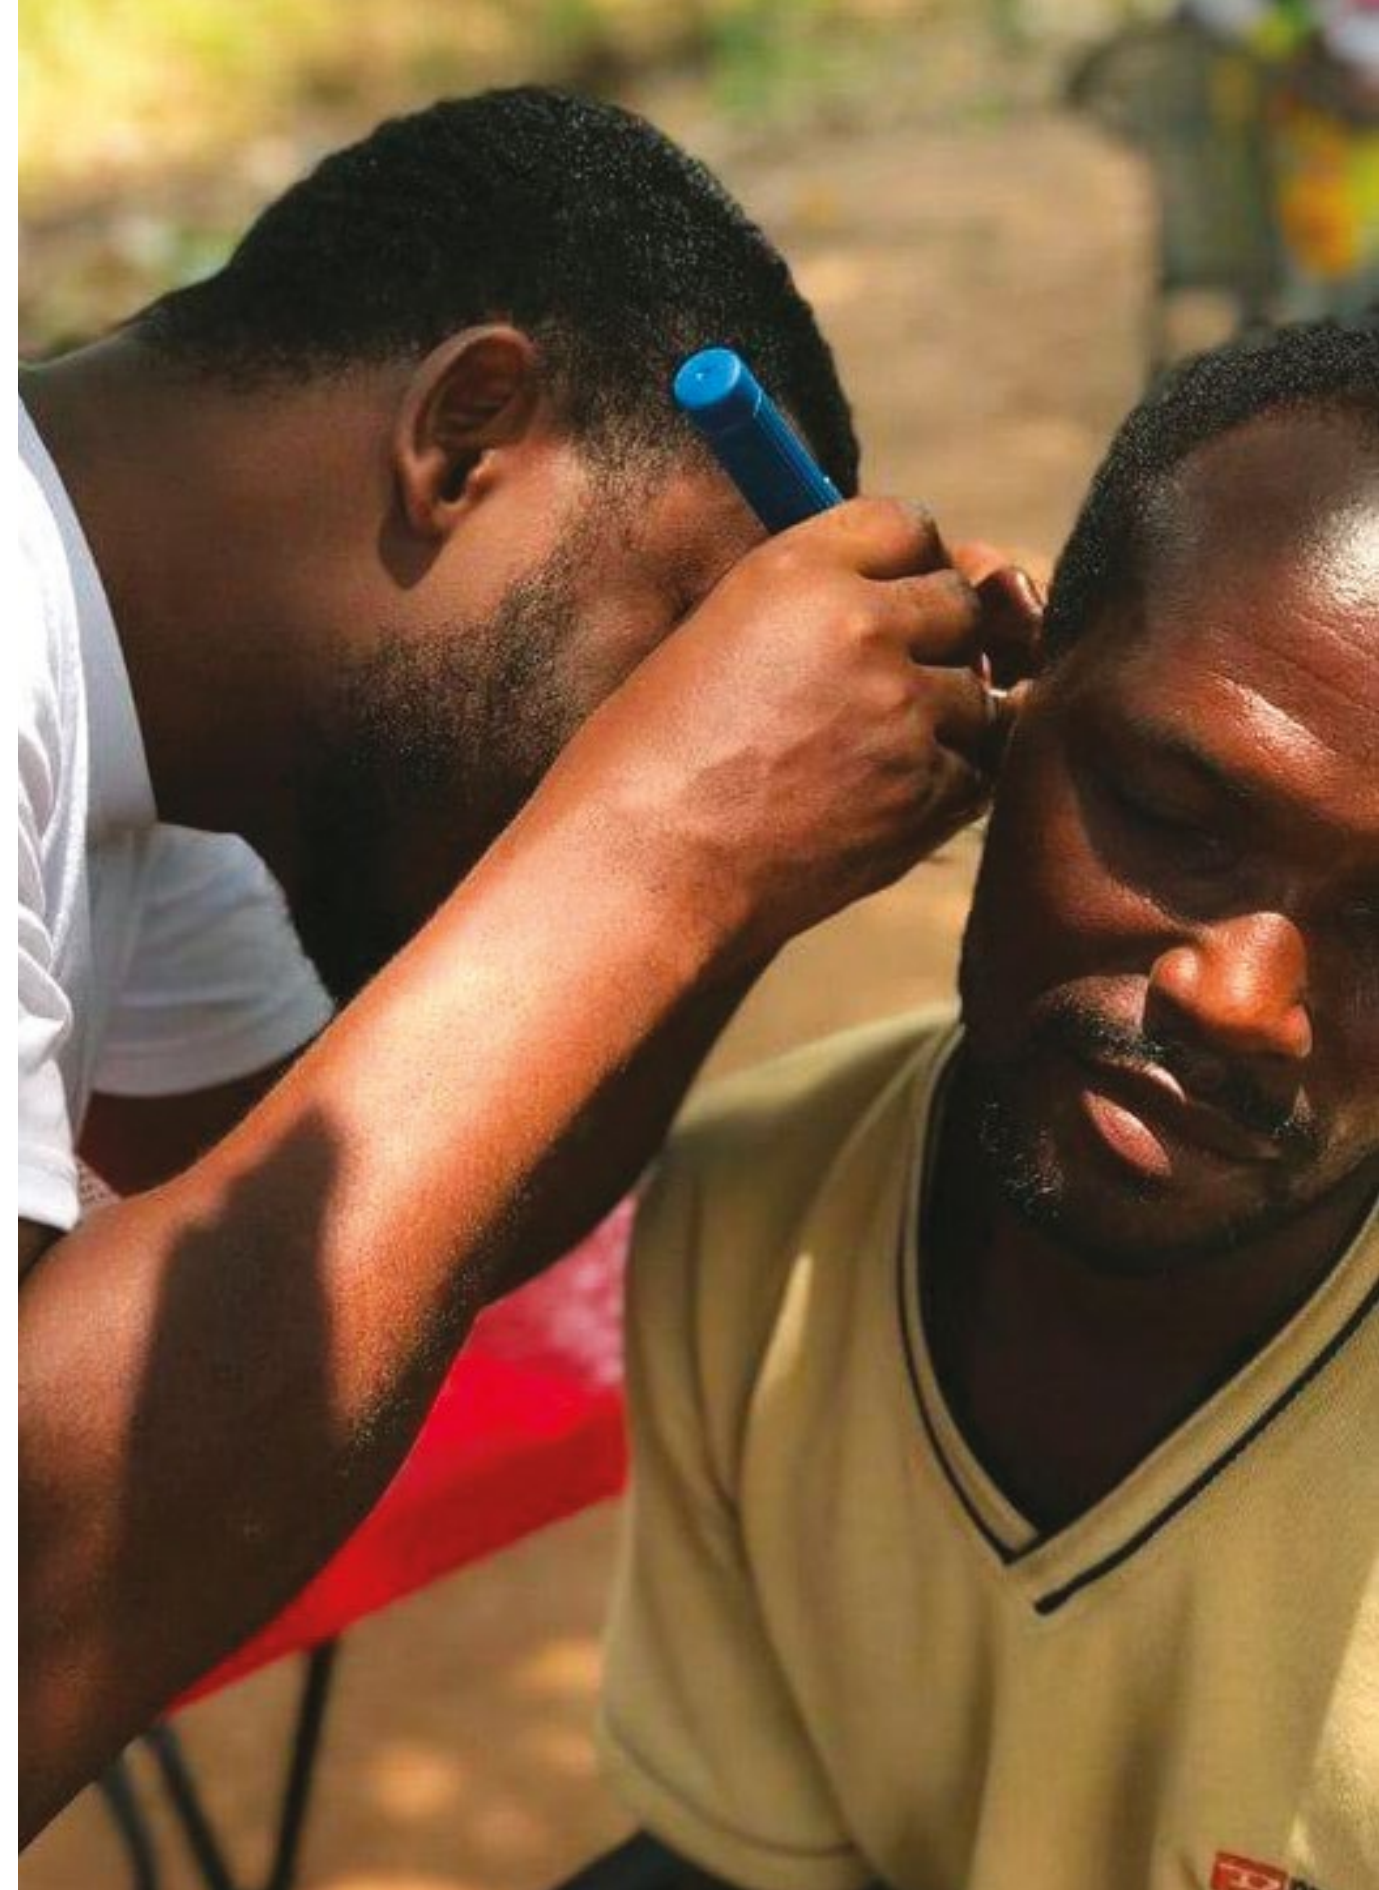

The events ranged from awareness campaigns to hearing screenings, from educational workshops and trainings to hearing aid provision. The present document is a summary of the different activities held during WHD 2023 by different organizations worldwide. We hope that it will be an inspiration for partners to plan activities for WHD 2024.
